

Wednesday, April 14, 2021

This week we have landed in Pugwash, Nova Scotia, having trekked from Port Cartier, Quebec, to Halifax, and are making our way back to Charlottetown. We are just motoring along! This means we are criss-crossing Mi'kmaqi, the traditional territory of the Mi'kmaq people.

